The STUDIO RC is a comprehensive rain cover that provides protection for the entire photographic gear: Camera, tuning handles, zoom control, follow focus and tripod.

Once a studio camera is harnessed into an outdoor production it will spend long stretches of time exposed to the natural elements, more than ordinary ENG cameras, because it will be left outside even when not in use.

The STUDIO RC provides long term protection against rain, moisture dust and scratches. And can also be used in large studio productions to protect the camera.

The STUDIO RC is suitable for a variety of studio cameras, tripods and accessories.
